THE LISTENING POST

● Every man to his own trade—and let the shoemaker stick to his own last! That was my thought the other day when with the expert aid of Lawrence Holland, I was trying to help a colored ditch digger locate a leak in a sewer on the school grounds. After the experience, and after being completely put in my place I was quite willing to stick to my own business of publishing a newspaper and Lawrence was willing to attend to his own school job.

● For the past eight years there has been sewer trouble in that sector. Time after time efforts have been made to locate and remedy the trouble. Time after time the earth has been spaded and dug and sifted, and at times partial success marked these efforts. But this partial success was never complete, and was always more or less temporary. Every year, at some time, it was necessary to do some more excavating, and the results were always more or less negligible.

● Last week the water began to spout at the wrong place again, and Lawrence, who was sitting in for Supt. Lewis during the latter's stay in a hospital, asked me what should be done. Not knowing anything else to do, I suggested getting a plumber and starting an excavation. This was done, and a colored man started digging. It has always been an amazing thing to me to see what a tremendous hole in the ground two colored men can make in a few hours. These two workers started digging one morning, and in a few hours I began to fear they would undermine the foundations of Carr Institute. They had a hole there large enough to dump a couple of eight-cylinder automobiles, and the pile of earth that came from the excavation seemed enough to completely bury the building. But no sign of the elusive leak that we were looking for.

● So Lawrence and the Listening Post held a consultation. Both of us were afraid that if we kept on digging the entire building might fall into the excavation, and it seemed quite likely that the third or fourth grades might accidentally fall into the pit and never be found again. Standing on the brink of the chasm Lawrence and I deliberated quite solemnly, and finally I asked the colored man who was digging away far at the bottom what he thought of abandoning his present shaft and sinking another about twenty or thirty feet away. My idea was that in this manner he might accidentally stumble on the leak and thus save a lot of digging and expense.

● Joe or Bill or Sam, whatever his name might be, thrust his spade far into the soft earth in the shaft and then crumbled some of it through his horny hands. He considered my suggestion quite carefully before he answered. Finally he spoke.

● "You gentlemen," he said slowly, "teaches school and you knows your business. I digs in the earth and I thinks I knows mine. I can dig another hole if you tells me to, for that's what I'm here for. But you gentlemen is making a mistake if you tells me to dig another hole. This hole is right close to the leak right now."

● Lawrence and I considered the problem and Sam's answer. It seemed logical that Sam might be

2 Plaintiffs Disqualified In Barkley Suit

Attorneys Are Given Time, However, To Amend Petition

Frankfort, Ky.—A suit by two Newport attorneys to bar the Democratic nominee, United States Senator Alben W. Barkley, from the November election ballot, was branded by judicial decision today as lacking plaintiffs legally capable of maintaining such a suit.

The attorneys, Charles E. Lester, Jr., and Lawrence Reidinger, Jr., however, were allowed until 10 a. m. next Monday to amend their petition. Lester told Circuit Judge William B. Ardery, who made the ruling, he "expected" to be able to obtain as a plaintiff one of the Democrats defeated by Barkley in the August Democratic primary or "the nominee of another party." "I am not saying I am sure of doing so," Lester added, "but I have been telephoning and I expect to be able to."

Private Horse Taxed High In Russia

Moscow — The privately-owned horse in the Soviet Union is heading for the last round-up.

To the tax collector has been entrusted the task of coaxing the several hundred thousands of privately-owned horses into the collective farms.

These animals, representing only a small percentage of the 17,000,000 horses in the U. S. S. R., still are in the possession of individual farmers.

There are about 1,400,000 individual farm holdings permitted under the new constitution so long as the farmer does not hire help and thus become an exploiter of labor.

By no means does every individual farmer own a horse, but those who do, Soviet authorities charged have been earning a pretty penny by renting them out for hauling loads or passengers.

In other words, they say, the die-hard capitalist urge in the individual farmer leads him to exploit the labor of his horse although he no longer is permitted to exploit human labor.

Money thus obtained by a small number of individual farmers has created discontent in the 18,000,000 peasant households whose draft animals, plows and lands already have been pooled in collective farms.

Louisville Mayor Pleads For Home Rule In Various Cities Of State

Mammoth Cave, Ky.—Asserting that the Legislature at Frankfort has sabotaged local government in many Kentucky municipalities, Mayor Joseph D. Scholtz of Louisville this afternoon called upon the Kentucky League of Municipalities to "present a united front against further legislative inroads upon local authority."

Mayor Scholtz asked the league to set in motion a drive for "dear home rule" in every city in the State, adding that "the time has come to tell every Kentuckian of the crisis that confronts this State's municipalities."

Water Valley Girls Furnish Fine Program

The Lions Club was entertained today by the "Swingettes," a talented group of four Water Valley girls, who gave several delightful numbers. This is the same group which sang Tuesday night when the Chamber of Commerce met with the Water Valley people, and there was a strong demand for them to come to Fulton at an early date. Warren Graham, who had charge of the program for today, asked the girls to appear here today, and they gave a splendid program. The girls are Misses Martha Haskell, Billie McCuan, Modean Bradley and Polly Cloyes.

Bulow Partel of Trenton, Tenn., was also a guest.

200 G's Profit Of California Athletic Teams

Berkeley, Calif. — Football and other sports were on the black side of the ledger at the University of California for the fiscal year 1937-38, according to the report of Kenneth Priestly, California's graduate manager.

Net profit from all athletic activities was $206,591.70, which included a net of $80,109.42 from the Rose Bowl game with Alabama. Excluding the Alabama game, athletic profits amounted to $126,482.28, approximately the athletic profit for the year 1935-36, and an increase of $65,217.49 over the year 1936-37. All of which shows how nice it is to have a good football team on the premises.

Graves Agent Says 20 Per Cent Of Leaf Damaged

Mayfield, Ky.—Twenty per cent of the tobacco acreage in Graves County was damaged by inundation and field fire, County Agent G. E. Williamson estimated today when informed that the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation is seeking Federal farm aid for dark-fired tobacco growers whose crops were damaged. Williamson said no request for assistance has been made by Graves County. Removal of damaged tobacco from the market is favored here.

Congressmen Noble J. Gregory, Mayfield, and Herron Pearson, Jackson, Tenn., yesterday inspected preliminary construction work at Gilbertsville Dam.

W. P. A. Wage Issue Planned By Alliance; Setup Called Scandal

Cleveland.—The national executive board of the Workers' Alliance declared today "the relief issue has become a national scandal" and emphasized its plan to make W. P. A. wages a "political issue in the 1938 elections."

The board's report will be submitted to the Alliance convention, opening here tomorrow. It declared the Alliance movement "speaks for" 16,000,000 unemployed and W. P. A. workers.

Political Challenge
"The 8,000,000 or more votes of W. P. A. workers and their families constitute a political challenge of the underprivileged to the seats of reaction," said the board. "The Tories are determined to fight bitterly every step we take to advance and protect our economic and political interests."

"We must organize a campaign to see that our rights are protected and extended so that we can take our rightful place not only in this election but in the crucial 1940 elections."

W. P. A. administration was described as "infested with politically appointed State, district, local and project officials, many of whom are viciously anti-labor, anti-New Deal and enemies of not only the W. P. A. workers but of the program as such."

Objectives Outlined

The board outlining the following objectives for the Alliance: 3,500,000 W. P. A. public works jobs next year; liberalization of requirements for W. P. A. employment; wage increases; Federal unemployment assistance aid to the States; "establishment of an adequate and just system of labor relations on the works program;" "massing of the political power of the unemployed together with other progressive forces for the success of the progressive New Deal candidates in the 1938 election;" membership drive and "the cementing of our relationship with the organized labor movement, so that we can work co-operatively in the protection of the interests not only of the unemployed but of labor generally."

State's F. D. I. C. Bank Resources Are $491,000,000

Washington.—Kentucky's 378 insured commercial banks had resources of $491,000,000 on June 30, 1938, and deposits of $419,964,000, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation reported today.

Demand deposits amounted to $222,748,000 and time deposits $145,552,000, exclusive of inter-bank deposits. Reporting banks had loans and discounts of $195,994,000, direct and guaranteed obligations of the United States Government amounting to $84,797,000, and other securities totaling $59,496,000.

The 13,723 insured commercial banks throughout the Nation had cash on hand, balances with other banks and items in process of collection of $16,370,730,000 on the same date, an increase of $1,830,579,000 over the total for June 30, 1937, and deposits of $47,429,821,000, a decline of $370,071,000 during the year.

2nd Victim Dies In Poison Siege

Chicago.—The second death and nine new infections from poisoning that attacked 144 persons in a week were reported to President Herman N. Bundesen of the Chicago Board of Health today. Scientists said tainted pastry was believed responsible for the ailment that spread through Chicago's West Side and adjacent suburbs.

The second death was that of Charles Herman, 14. The death Friday of Earl Bennison, 53, was followed by numerous reports of illness and sent health authorities on the trail of the source.

Chemists and bacteriologists attributed the malady to paratyphoid and Staphylococci germs. Miss C. I. Woolsey, Cook County Hospital bacteriologist, said an analysis of Bennison's vital organs disclosed staphylococci germs.

Dr. H. J. Shaughnessy of the State Health Department said paratyphoid germs had also been found in the pastry.

Fulton High Faces Paducah Saturday Night

The Fulton Bulldogs will go into action on the Paducah gridiron this week end for their second game of the season and from all reports the Bulldogs are out to give the Paducah boys the real battle they're looking for. The game tomorrow night was scheduled to be played tonight (Friday) but was postponed because of the fair which is now the great attraction in Paducah.

Coach Jack Carter has made a thorough review of his first and second string men and says that as a whole his team has improved 100 per cent in defensive work since the Lexington game and also the offense is greatly improved.

The Bulldogs will be handicapped tomorrow night because of four players being injured. Jimmie Lewis, who received a severe leg cut in the Lexington game, will definitely be out of the lineup for the Paducah game and might be out the following week. James Campbell and Fred Brady will not be in there tomorrow night because of injuries and Donald McCrite is also injured, although he will probably see action.

A number of the boys who saw very little, if any, action in the first game have been working hard and have shown so great an improvement that a place will more than likely be found for them Saturday night. Edward "Sug" Willingham is a halfback who has shown great improvement, especially on defense work. Jack Tosh is another youngster who has found a position for himself as tackle and another little boy who has shown plenty of fight at the tackle position is Jack Wellons. Carl Buckingham and Howard Armbruster are working hard to hold their positions at ends as are Albert Moss and Clyde Hill at the guard positions. Jarrell Stockdale, center, continues to show improvement. In the backfield Carter has Charlie Thomas, Charles White, Cortez Bethel, and "Sug" Willingham. Others who are out there fighting for back positions are Paul Laine, Elmus Underwood, and James Burton. Little Hugh Mack McClellan, Carter's stand-by, cannot be forgotten, for Hugh Mack will keep fighting and will be a great football player before his high school days are over. William Humphries is running on the second team and looks especially good on offense. Mack Jolley is looking good on defense work as are Ralph Stevenson, Fred Collier, and Milton Cavender, ends. Billy Read and Joe Treas McClellan are the lightweights of the whole bunch but are right out there working hard and showing plenty of fight and the bigger and older boys realize the necessity of having these fighting youngsters in practice.

Tommie East, who moved here from New Orleans, enrolled in Carr Institute last week and reported yesterday for football practice. Tommie weighs about 140 pounds and is only a seventh grader but he looks good to the coach and will probably find work on the lineup before long.

The average weight of the Paducah boys is only about 170 or 185 pounds, which does not come up to

Judge Declines To Dismiss Suit Over Cop's Pay

Appeal To Supreme Court Seen In Ruling Issued By Meredith

Frankfort, Ky. — The future of the now suspended State highway patrol was placed in the hands of the courts today with ultimate decision likely to be made by the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

After the filing today of a petition to test Attorney General Hubert Meredith's recent ruling that state highway funds can not be used to finance the patrol, Circuit Judge William B. Ardery overruled Meredith's move to dismiss the case on the grounds no cause of action had been shown, saying: "The court believes the proper patrol of roads is part of their maintenance and therefore I overrule the demurrer and will let the case be tried on its merits." He gave Meredith until next Wednesday to file an answer, after which it was expected a date for trial would be set.

Filed In Cops' Name

The suit was filed at the direction of Gov. A. B. Chandler in the name of two highway patrolmen, S. C. Payne and Carl Norman. The petition stated they were suing in behalf of all the other patrolmen, whose wages had been stopped when Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys declined to allow any more highway funds to be diverted to the patrol after Meredith's ruling.

Pedestrian Finds $400 But Motorist With Gun Gets It

Youngstown, Ohio.—Police sought with little hope today to find out where $400 in bills came from and where it went after John Oliver, 38, reported finding it scattered along the Youngstown-Akron Road near Lake Milton. Oliver said he had no more than picked it up when a motorist drove up with a gun and said "That's my money," took it and drove away. Oliver failed to get the license number.

The school is indebted to him and the county for this work and the students are showing their appreciation by their enthusiastic games each day.

Uncle Sam's New Eye

Be cautious, Mr. Farmer, in preparing your claims for benefits under provisions of the crop control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. If you fudge a bit and try to get credits beyond your performance in hewing to the allotted line, whether in the matter of cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco or other crops touched by the control program, be sure that Washington has more than a good chance to note the fault. In fact, suspicious Uncle Sam has taken to the air to check up on you.

With more than $700,000,000 in federal benefits payments to be made in the next 12 months, photographs made from airplanes flying three miles high are being prepared for the Adjustment Administration and we may expect this all-seeing eye, which by the first of the year will have fallen on 1,350,000 square miles of American farm land, will serve quite usefully in checking up exaggerated claims for benefits. The individual photographs measuring 22 by 20 inches will tell most intimately what is going on in a farm way in sections of terrain embracing areas of six square miles each. So even though a few prohibited acres be well hidden back of the woods lot and far from a public highway, the more than candid camera operated by Uncle Sam will take note of them and on that evidence explanations may be demanded, if benefit claims are at odds with what the camera sees.

Aerial mapping got under way in 1936 and is taking the place of the old method of land surveying to determine farmer compliance with the crop control program. Most of the mapping being done this year is in the eastern half of the country, but there is no way of telling what day the eye of the camera may fall on farms not of the eastern half. If, indeed, the inquisitive instrument has not already had a look. Certainly it is the plan of the authorities to continue the check until all of the nation's farms, comprising about 1,650,000 square miles, are in the picture records, ready to match against any claim for benefits that appear to be overgenerous. The complete survey, it is expected will be in the records by 1940, the cost according to Washington, being borne by co-operating farmers, their prorated part of the expense being deducted from their benefit checks. Which suggests the thought that farmers who make no claims and get no benefits will have their farms photographed free—from 3 miles up.

right. Sam was wrong on only one count. He took both of us for teachers, naturally, and did not know the Listening Post never did teach school, and is hardly qualified for such a position. Anyhow, as one expert to another, I took the hint. Sam was probably right, and I told him to keep right on digging and I would offer no more half-baked ideas. "Keep on digging until you find it," I said. "If the house falls in on you perhaps you'd better stop digging, but use your own judgment."

With that final instruction I left Sam to his own devices, and in less than an hour after that he had found the first leak and repaired it. Another hour or so the next day brought him to the entire trouble, and it is now reported that the eight year old trouble has been cared for. So, next time I am confronted with such a problem, I am going to tell Sam to pick his spot and begin digging. He digs in the earth, and quite evidently knows what he is doing.

their averages of former years making them the holy terror for high school football teams throughout Kentucky. They cannot be the heavy football team which has been praised by Paducah for the past number of years and the Bulldogs are out to prove just that. With Carter's boys showing so great improvement, their high spirit, their excellent condition, their determination to stop Paducah, and with the faith of the coach himself, Saturday night's game may result in the upset of the season.

The Paducah boys have always been big and tough to handle but in all the years the Bulldogs have played them; it has been proven that the Paducahans do not teach their boys anything but clean, hard-fighting football, and so those who go over to Paducah tomorrow night to boost the home team, will witness a clean, hard fight from the kick-off to the final gun.

Yes, the Bulldogs are out to get Paducah!

MEETING WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met in regular session at the home of Mrs. George Payne on Jefferson street.

The president, Mrs. Dan Horton, presided. The devotionals was led by Mrs. J. J. Owen who read from St. Matthew V and used as her topic "Ye are the light of the World," using timely comments and prayer. Mrs. Wells, superintendent of literature, gave an excellent report and Mrs. Owen gave fine reports from the Evangelistic Department and Youth's Temperance Council. The Union is justly proud of the new sign which was recently installed on the Paducah Highway.

The State Convention which will be held October 10 at Louisville, Ky., was discussed and Mesdames Payne and Berninger were elected as delegates who will represent the local group.

"Safety" was the topic for study which was led by Mrs. Herring, assisted by Mesdames Horton and R. B. Beadles. Highway accidents, a survey of the deaths of drivers, riders, and pedestrians were studied, showing that killing is expensive. Mrs. Berninger read a most helpful leaflet on "Temperance and Missions."

The National benediction was led by Mrs. Ceguin.

During the social hour the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Wiseman, served lovely tea and wafers.
